ARTICLING STUDENT PROGRAM

WHO WE ARE

Zarek Taylor Grossman Hanrahan LLP is recognized as Toronto's pre-eminent insurance defence firm, with a diverse practice in all areas of insurance law. We have been involved in many of the leading cases in Canada including at the Supreme Court. We pride ourselves in providing client-focused solutions to complex legal problems.

OUR PROGRAM

We view our articling students as future lawyers at the firm. We provide extensive training to our students and hands-on practical experience. Under supervision, students are given early opportunities to carry files and have direct client contact. Our articling students get opportunities to appear in court and put their advocacy training to work.

In addition, our students get the opportunity to attend with and assist senior lawyers on trials and tribunal proceedings and participate in assisting lawyers on these files from start to finish. Our students work directly with senior partners, and indeed, with all levels of lawyers within our office during the course of their articles.

As a Zarek Taylor Grossman Hanrahan LLP articling student, you will be exposed to other practical aspects of a litigation practice by meeting and dealing with clients and other lawyers, drafting pleadings, motion materials, factums and legal memoranda. Since there is no formal rotation, students get a chance to have a breadth of experience, involvement in a wide range of claims, plaintiff and defence, accident benefits, property and tort.

Student enthusiasm and talents are always welcome at social events including our annual client seminar.

We have an "open door" policy throughout the office to provide guidance and direction to students, not only on particular file matters but also on general practice matters. We respect, listen to and give our students the chance to maximize their abilities.

We have four articling positions available for the 2017/2018 term.
